DANISH SENIORS' ECONOMY DURING INFLATION

Due to a solid financial situation the economic crisis in Denmark has not been very serious for the seniors! Financial support from the government has meant that Seniors have not suffered much. For some of the most vulnerable life has somehow been difficult.

For others for an example owners of houses/apartments there have been some challenges, because the prices went down!

As the inflation rather quickly almost stopped, it is generally considered that Denmark was not so seriously effected as the worldwide crisis in 2008 – 2010.

Seniors at large have benefitted from the fact that the dominating principle of solidarity has been effective.

More examples will follow in the speech
